Thank you for your valued order which will be despatched by standard delivery unless otherwise requested. Orders are despatched Monday to Friday only. Should you require any further assistance please contact your local sales office at support@farnell.co.uk

All handling and packing charges will be detailed separately on your invoice. Delivery charges may be subject to additional cost for heavy goods. The estimated delivery date of products from external suppliers is based on current supplier delivery information. Prices charged will be those prevailing when an order is accepted. Where Supplies are to be made in instalments ('Scheduled Delivery') the price payable for them will be that applicable at the time of despatch of the first batch of Supplies but, where Scheduled Delivery may continue for a period of 90 days or more, the Company reserves the right to charge the Customer further amounts if the price of the Supplies increases before the end of that period.

All orders are processed in accordance with Farnell element 14's acknowledgment of order and subject to the Farnell element14 terms of purchase and no other terms and conditions shall apply unless otherwise expressly agreed in writing between parties.
